2.1. Candidates for the Chapter’s election

Nomcom selected a slate of six candidates for the Chapter’s elections.

After this information was shared with the community, there was a petition made by George Sadowsky, which received the required number of signatures in its support.

Therefore, the final Chapters slate for two (2) board seats is as follows:

The candidates for each election slate are listed below in alphabetical order by last name.

Chapters Election (two seats available)

– Satish Babu
– Maimouna Diop
– Luis Miguel Martinez
– Glenn McKnight
– Amir Qayyum
– George Sadowsky
– Roberto Zambrana

2.2. Candidates for the Organization’s election

The Nomcom selected a slate of two candidates for the Organization Members election.

One more candidate, Heather West, was added to the initial slate of candidates for the Organization Members election. She was originally identified for the slate by the Nominations Committee, but was excluded due to a potential conflict of interest.

The Nominations Committee subsequently learned that the potential conflict of interest was resolved. Therefore, the final Organization Members slate for one (1) board seat is as follows:

Organization Members Election (one seat available)

The candidates for each election slate are listed below in alphabetical order by last name.

– Olivier Alais
– Ted Hardie
– Heather West

4. Selection process

Fourteen candidates were shortlisted for interviews based on their suitability to serve as determined by the board criteria.

Seven were from the chapter’s list of candidates and seven from the organization’s list of candidates.

Thirteen interviews were made, only one selected candidate for the interview did not respond to the invitation, sent several times.

5. Criteria for rating the candidates for the interviews

A scale of 1 (less met) - 5 (Completely met) was used to score each individual criteria.

Thus, Interests and skills (max. of 45) and the Personal qualities and leadership (max. of 40). This was combined with a series of interview questions as described in the next section.

4. Positive attitude and constructive thinking

5. Ability to ask right, appropriate questions

6. Understanding time commitment / ability to participate on a regular basis in BoT work

8. Potential concerns and conflict of interest

6. Interview Questions

We informed the interviewee that there are only 20 minutes for the interview and that answers should be brief and concise.

1) Why are you interested in being part of the ISOC BoT? Which are your personal motivations, why do you want to join?

2) In which committees of the ISOC BoT would you be willing to participate?

3) In your view, which is the role of the ISOC BoT in relation with the ISOC organization and community?

4) From your perspective, which skills and experience do you bring to the Board?

5) Thinking about the Internet Society, what sorts of challenges might arise in the future? (PIR comments may arise here)

6) Possible PIR Related questions:
   In your opinion
   i. has the BoT acted in a transparent way?
   ii. Should the BoT focus on the long term stability of ISOC?
   iii. Others?

7) For chapters or organizations:
   a. Chapters: what role do you feel should Chapters play within the Internet Society and the Internet Society's area of influence?
   b. Organizations: what role do you feel that the Organizational Members should play within the Internet Society and the Internet Society's area of influence?

10) The board has a significant time commitment and involves committee meetings and travels. Candidates must be informed and aware of this.

11) The NOMCOM timeline and process summarized by committee members

12) Do you have any questions for us?
